FOREWORD

In this, the 50th edition of the Cardinal, the members of the staff wish to focus upon the growth of our college in every aspect. Physically, our campus has grown from one main building, Hawkins Hall, to the buildings we now have and to those under construction. We are no longer strictly a professional school; we have added the Liberal Arts program to our academic program. The student body has increased tremendously from the first enrollment of less than 100 to over 1900 today. With increase in student enrollment has come an increase in faculty, and with these new people have come many new and stimulating ideas. Plattsburgh is growing in every way toward bigger and better facilities, students, faculty, curriculum and atmosphere. In the following pages, we hope to present some aspects of this total growth.

IN MEMORIAM

DR. MOLLIE K. WILD

Dr. Mollie K. Wild was a member of the Education Division of the faculty at SUC at Plattsburgh for twenty years. During this time, Dr. Wild's activities were not confined only to the teaching of education courses. She was very active in the New York State English Council and was a frequent contributor to its magazine, The English Record. She wrote many articles on creative writing in the elementary grades. Indeed, her life long interest was in the growth of children in creative imaginative expression. For this reason, her death has been a great loss, not only to the college and her profession, but also to school children everywhere.

IN MEMORIAM

DR. GEORGE YOKUM

In the years that Dr. George Yokum was at Plattsburgh, his musical ability became well-known. He shaped the Baccalaureate Service into its present form; he organized the Lakeside Chorale; he was co-director of a series of musical plays. But Dr. Yokum's influence went beyond music. "To his students he imparted not only knowledge but the desire to search and the opportunity to further their individuality and to strive toward self-fulfillment. Who among his colleagues is not aware of his devotion to the spirit of free inquiry, of his determination to speak out and say what he believed was in the best interest of the college community, regardless of whether or not his point of view was popular? Always he could be found in the forefront of those who were willing to experiment to see if there was not, perhaps, a better way." There is not a more fitting tribute to such a man than these the words of his friends.

With the growth at Plattsburgh, the job of administration has grown in complexity. Our administration has accepted the job and is performing its tasks to the utmost. It continues to meet the changing needs of a growing college with the foresight and skill which is indicative of the quality of the college leadership.

To the Class of '65 —

My deepest appreciation to you young people who, in your enthusiasm for innovation, never fail to inspire all who are fortunate enough to know you.

This yearbook with its theme,
"Expanding Campus", not only reveals the unfolding architecture of brick and mortar but skilfully infuses it with human hopes for a better world! Who could ask for more?

Your ardent admirer,
George S. Russell

Many new activities have been added to the Plattsburgh campus scene. New clubs and organizations are constantly being formed. Old ones are being rejuvenated and reformed. Besides organized activities, the new Physical Education Building provides many other activities for everyone. The growth of diverse organizations and varied activities on campus provides each student with an excellent opportunity to develop his own personal abilities and for the broadening of his education.

FOOTLIGHTERS

The Footlighters, offer contemporary, classical, and experimental drama to our campus. On stage they bring us varied and unusual literature. Directing these presentations is Paul Gray.

Last spring, The Footlighters brought Plattsburgh honor with their presentation of "The Dream Play" at the Yale Drama Festival. For their achievements, the Footlighters received the 1963 Presidents Cup.

This fall the Greek tragedy "Medea" was presented on the open stage. Further productions this year will be "The Caucasian Chalk Circle" and "The Importance of Being Earnest." Again this year The Footlighters will have the honor to return to Yale to present "The Chairs."

The Greeks' activities on campus have become evident in the past few years. Everyone has enjoyed the various sorority-fraternity weekends and the rush parties and smokers. The Greeks have also grown in another way, however. Each year, sororities and fraternities add to their schedules many projects of more than social value to college and community. Growth in this direction has helped the Greeks attain a respected position on campus and in the community.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternal Council is the co-ordinating body of the Greek organizations on campus. It strives for unity and co-operation among the members.

The sororities have representation in Sorority Council as the fraternities do in the Fraternal Council. Representatives of each of these councils compose the Interfraternal Council.

Social, economic, and academic activities of the fraternities and sororities are regulated by the Interfraternal Council. These activities include rushing, bidding, pledging, initiations, and weekends.

In addition to governing, the Interfraternal Council sponsors a weekend in the spring. A candlelight sing by the fraternities and sororities and the Interfraternal dance highlight this weekend.

As the campus grows, so do the fraternities and sororities. In their growth, increasing self-government is necessary. The Interfraternal Council, composed of students governing their own organizations, brings forth this ideal.

During the past few seasons, our athletic program has been broadened considerably. With the addition of each new sport comes a growth of school spirit and team support that spreads to include all the fine athletic teams we have. Let's hope this support keeps growing and helps carry the Cardinals to first place finishes for years to come.

BASKETBALL '64

As part of the dedication of our new gym, Plattsburch hosted a Dedication tournament on December 6-7, 1963. Hartford, Norwich, Union, and Plattsburch participated. Plattsburch was ready and eager, and they were well rewarded. Captain John Pelkaus accepts the award for first place from Dr. Angell. John also accepts the award for the most valuable player of the tournament. This was a very fitting beginning of our 1963-64 basketball season.

Each new class that arrives at Plattsburgh is bigger than the one preceding it. With this growth in classes has come not only a growth in school spirit, but also a growth in intellectual spirit. As long as classes such as those of the past few years keep coming to Plattsburgh, there is no doubt that Plattsburgh will continue its ascent to a top place in the State University College system.

A black and white photograph showing a large crowd of students sitting outdoors, likely at a sporting event or assembly. They are seated on the ground, facing towards the left side of the frame. The background is filled with dense trees and foliage, suggesting a campus setting. The lighting is bright, creating strong shadows.

As regular students, the Seniors at Plattsburgh have come to the end of one phase of growth. They will continue growing, however, as students of life. As this kind of student, each Plattsburgh Senior will make a contribution to his own growth and to the growth of others with whom he comes in contact.

CLASS HISTORY

We arrived on September 14, 1960, not knowing quite what to expect and somewhat apprehensive of the days and months between us and that far distant day four years thence. Nevertheless orientation was soon over and we were wrapped up in Freshman Week, with those darn sophomores making us carry books and signs, sing songs, and even clean the sidewalks with toothbrushes. Then came the "Tennis Court Oath" and "Black Friday." No, we would' never forgive those sophomores. They didn't give us our chance to pull them through the pond.

By that time classes were in full swing and we were getting our first taste of higher education, and our first of many lessons in how to think.

In November we organized as a class and elected Joe Baker as our first president. Under his guidance we sponsored the successful Freshman Dance — "Mistletoe Melody." Then in February we built the "toad stool" as our entry in the snow sculpture contest. Last, but not least of our freshman memories was that infamous day at the city beach when the Sophomores honored us at the annual Freshman-Sophomore picnic.

Eric Martinsen headed our sophomore year. That year we got our chance and for the second time in history, the sophomores pulled the freshmen through the pond. Our sophomore slump was given a rest when our Soiree — "Syonora" — had a record attendance. We'll never forget that leaky pond. That spring we stood out in the crowd with the arrival of those red class blazers.

At the half-way mark we chose John DuBois to lead the class which was chiefly concerned with directing itself toward one week in April — Junior Week. We were advised that it was to be only a weekend but our number system proved to be extremely capable of overcoming that barrier. On Thursday, events climaxed when the unexpected, but not so unexpected, "Lord Affair" occurred. Repercussions? Yes! The next day was another not-supposed-to-be but was — sneak day. We'll never reveal what happened. Saturday night was "Continental Carousel" with Junior Prom Court, Queen Joanne Picirilli and King John DuBois followed by the Lettermen on Sunday.

On Class Day, Eddie Dalmata and her staff presented the Junior gift, the 1963 Cardinal. And somehow we managed to end the year with a bang when our new president, Tom Matthews, almost dropped out of sight in the red mantle, the symbol of the Senior Class.

Although we were once again joined by our ever-popular nurses, student teaching and classes separated us. This year we concerned ourselves with planning for alumni organization and for June 7, 1964.

Today is that day. Our fears and apprehensions of college days are gone and in their place are the friendships and memories of our alma mater and our Class of 1964. We won't forget. We can't; it is part of our lives.

STUDENT EXAMPLES

The striving for excellence by students is growing more evident each year. It is shown not only by the Honors Center display, but also by growth in number of independent study projects, by increased classroom activities, and by growth in every phase of campus life. Plattsburgh students strive for excellence not only academically but socially and personally as well.
